

THE DAILY BEE

E. ROSEWATER, Editor

PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION: Daily Bee, one year, $1.00; Six Months, 60c; Three Months, 35c; Single Copies, 5c.

OFFICES: Omaha, The Bee Building, 20th and 26th Streets; Chicago, 312 Chamber Street; New York, Rooms 13, 14 and 15, Tribune Building.

ALL COMMUNICATIONS relating to news and editorial matter should be addressed to the Editor.

BUSINESS LETTERS: All business letters and remittances should be addressed to The Bee Publishing Company.

THE BEE PUBLISHING COMPANY.

SWORN STATEMENT OF CIRCULATION: State of Nebraska, County of Douglas, I, George B. Tschuck, secretary of the Bee publishing company, do hereby swear that the actual circulation of THE DAILY BEE for the week ending April 11, 1893, was as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Day and Circulation. Total for week: 24,170.

Average Circulation for March, 1893, 24,170

ANNOUNCEMENT: Mr. Rosewater, editor of this paper, has been recalled away to New York on important business.

When a man passes an entire session of the legislature about the state capitol in the pleasant pastime of lobbying through a measure that promises to insure him a good fat office only to see a personal enemy walk off with the prize he naturally doubts the gratitude of republics in general and the wisdom of the appointive power in particular.

THE American Forestry association has appealed to Secretary Hoke Smith to stop the cutting of timber on the public lands. Now here is another chance for the doughty chief of the interior department to demonstrate what sort of stuff he is made of.

INDICATIONS are that all efforts to switch "Tom" Watson and some of the other third party leaders in Georgia off into an endorsement of the old democratic party have proved unavailing.

THERE is still time for the business interests of Omaha to make an effort to secure from the railroads stopover privileges for persons going by way of this city to the World's fair.

THERE seems no doubt that a formidable expedition to Cuba, numbering between 400 and 500 men, organized and officered by revolutionists, has rendezvoused at Key West and is ready at any moment when it may escape the vigilance of the United States officials to sail for the island.

IF IGNATIUS DONNELLY can establish that he has made it he claims to have made it. He has not lived entirely in vain and he will doubtless receive the grateful plaudits of the wronged people of his state.

SOME of our state exchanges still contend that there were not good and sufficient grounds for the impeachment of the state officials. The arguments presented to sustain this position are unconvincing.

THE New York evening Post is unduly alarmed lest the qualifications of Hon. Bartlett Tripp of South Dakota are not such as to render him a creditable minister to the Austrian court.

THE six impeached state officials were all republicans but the impeachers were not all of the opposite political faith; indeed the rank and file of the republican party as well as of the democratic party are honest men in office.

THE bridge motor line has been handsomely treated at the hands of this community. At the outset it was granted terminal facilities in the heart of the city worth many thousands of dollars.

THE New York evening Post is unduly alarmed lest the qualifications of Hon. Bartlett Tripp of South Dakota are not such as to render him a creditable minister to the Austrian court.

THE six impeached state officials were all republicans but the impeachers were not all of the opposite political faith; indeed the rank and file of the republican party as well as of the democratic party are honest men in office.

THE MARCH OF MONOPOLY.

Without check or restraint the army of monopoly moves steadily forward. It regards neither statutory law nor public sentiment. The fact that for three years there has been a general law against trusts and combinations has no terrors for it.

It is proposed to hold a convention to consider what shall be done to suppress these combinations and to arouse popular attention to the steady growth of the evil. It is well to do this, for there is apparently great public apathy and indifference on the subject.

The Chicago Tribune pointedly says: "Every day of delay in dealing with the odious system as it deserves does but encourage the trusts already in existence to extend their arrangements for bleeding the public and equally to encourage the formation of new ones to suck the life blood of the people in parts of the system that had previously been untouched by the giant octopus."

There is not a valid reason for want of faith in the future of Omaha. There is some unoccupied business and residence property here, but not more in proportion than is to be found in a majority of the cities of the country.

THE bridge motor line has been handsomely treated at the hands of this community. At the outset it was granted terminal facilities in the heart of the city worth many thousands of dollars.

THE six impeached state officials were all republicans but the impeachers were not all of the opposite political faith; indeed the rank and file of the republican party as well as of the democratic party are honest men in office.

THE bridge motor line has been handsomely treated at the hands of this community. At the outset it was granted terminal facilities in the heart of the city worth many thousands of dollars.

THE six impeached state officials were all republicans but the impeachers were not all of the opposite political faith; indeed the rank and file of the republican party as well as of the democratic party are honest men in office.

THE bridge motor line has been handsomely treated at the hands of this community. At the outset it was granted terminal facilities in the heart of the city worth many thousands of dollars.

THE six impeached state officials were all republicans but the impeachers were not all of the opposite political faith; indeed the rank and file of the republican party as well as of the democratic party are honest men in office.

THE bridge motor line has been handsomely treated at the hands of this community. At the outset it was granted terminal facilities in the heart of the city worth many thousands of dollars.

THE six impeached state officials were all republicans but the impeachers were not all of the opposite political faith; indeed the rank and file of the republican party as well as of the democratic party are honest men in office.

It is not questionable that a careful examination of the record of the senate in this matter would fully justify all that was said by Senator Sherman in rebuke of the course that has been pursued.

THE FUTURE OF OMAHA.

Confidence is the mainspring of success. This is true of communities as well as of individuals. The people of Omaha need a reinvigoration of confidence in the possibilities of this city.

There is an extraordinary increase this spring in the immigration of French Canadians into the United States, and it is observed with regard to it that it is a break with traditions and associations which seem to have bound these people as few other peoples have been bound with such bands.

WHATSOEVER may be the outcome of the new railroad rate law, it cannot be charged that the action of the republican governor of the state thwarted the expectations of the people.

So far as the average republican can make it out, the cause to which President Cleveland consecrated himself last year is that of the heads of the office and democrats back in their places.

Senator Harbo argues eloquently against popular election of senators. It is hardly probable that such a proposition would pass the senate at the present time.

The action of State Auditor Moore, in rejecting several vouchers for supplies, which have been approved by the auditing committee, entitles him to the thanks of the people of this state, irrespective of party.

The Journal fails to find in any nuggety organ a copy of Cleveland's assistant postmaster general to halt in his work as headman. And yet Mr. Clarkson, in the day of his greatest efficiency, did not put more heads in the basket than Mr. Maxwell is now doing.

The evident determination of the supreme court to bring the impeachment cases to trial as soon as possible is highly commendable. The disgraced man who now resides upon the state should be removed as soon as possible. The state can not afford to rest under such a cloud.

Mr. Eckels to learn that Mr. Cleveland has nominated for controller of the currency is said to have observed, upon hearing of his nomination, that he knew nothing about banks, but was willing to learn.

Among the pledges to be fulfilled is the pledge to enact a law for revenue only, a tariff into which the unconstitutional principle of protection shall enter in no form, however disguised.

How grandly does Grover indicate the lesson that the appropriate little birdies should in their nests agree and never once fall out! See the big go-hunting through the air to fall in sustaining shovers on the states where factor is Mr. Chas. in his deadly work. And then look at the dreary and pitiless condition of Missouri, Virginia, South Carolina, Texas, New York and Alabama.

The rubber trust is composed of a large number of corporations, organized with a capital of $50,000,000. It gets its raw material free and a duty of 30 per cent on its products.

The freight rate bill passed the senate and Mr. Everett voted for it, and thus cast a vote for the people of this state and the state. As the Times has already intimated none honor him more than the editor for his act.

Mr. Okey's opportunity. The rubber trust is composed of a large number of corporations, organized with a capital of $50,000,000. It gets its raw material free and a duty of 30 per cent on its products.

It is not questionable that a careful examination of the record of the senate in this matter would fully justify all that was said by Senator Sherman in rebuke of the course that has been pursued.

DEMOCRATIC AGENTS.

OMAHA, Neb., April 13.—To the Editor of THE BEE: In yesterday's edition of THE BEE there appeared an article from its Washington correspondent which reflected upon the officers of the democratic state central committee.

Resolved, That the state central committee endorse applicants for postoffices who have been recommended by the county central committee and the chairman of the county central committee acting in harmony with the national committee, and that certificates of endorsement be given to said applicants by the officers of the state committee.

Resolved, That the state central committee endorse applicants for postoffices who have been recommended by the county central committee and the chairman of the county central committee acting in harmony with the national committee, and that certificates of endorsement be given to said applicants by the officers of the state committee.

Resolved, That the state central committee endorse applicants for postoffices who have been recommended by the county central committee and the chairman of the county central committee acting in harmony with the national committee, and that certificates of endorsement be given to said applicants by the officers of the state committee.

Resolved, That the state central committee endorse applicants for postoffices who have been recommended by the county central committee and the chairman of the county central committee acting in harmony with the national committee, and that certificates of endorsement be given to said applicants by the officers of the state committee.

Resolved, That the state central committee endorse applicants for postoffices who have been recommended by the county central committee and the chairman of the county central committee acting in harmony with the national committee, and that certificates of endorsement be given to said applicants by the officers of the state committee.

Resolved, That the state central committee endorse applicants for postoffices who have been recommended by the county central committee and the chairman of the county central committee acting in harmony with the national committee, and that certificates of endorsement be given to said applicants by the officers of the state committee.

Resolved, That the state central committee endorse applicants for postoffices who have been recommended by the county central committee and the chairman of the county central committee acting in harmony with the national committee, and that certificates of endorsement be given to said applicants by the officers of the state committee.

Resolved, That the state central committee endorse applicants for postoffices who have been recommended by the county central committee and the chairman of the county central committee acting in harmony with the national committee, and that certificates of endorsement be given to said applicants by the officers of the state committee.

Resolved, That the state central committee endorse applicants for postoffices who have been recommended by the county central committee and the chairman of the county central committee acting in harmony with the national committee, and that certificates of endorsement be given to said applicants by the officers of the state committee.

Resolved, That the state central committee endorse applicants for postoffices who have been recommended by the county central committee and the chairman of the county central committee acting in harmony with the national committee, and that certificates of endorsement be given to said applicants by the officers of the state committee.

Resolved, That the state central committee endorse applicants for postoffices who have been recommended by the county central committee and the chairman of the county central committee acting in harmony with the national committee, and that certificates of endorsement be given to said applicants by the officers of the state committee.

Resolved, That the state central committee endorse applicants for postoffices who have been recommended by the county central committee and the chairman of the county central committee acting in harmony with the national committee, and that certificates of endorsement be given to said applicants by the officers of the state committee.

Resolved, That the state central committee endorse applicants for postoffices who have been recommended by the county central committee and the chairman of the county central committee acting in harmony with the national committee, and that certificates of endorsement be given to said applicants by the officers of the state committee.

Resolved, That the state central committee endorse applicants for postoffices who have been recommended by the county central committee and the chairman of the county central committee acting in harmony with the national committee, and that certificates of endorsement be given to said applicants by the officers of the state committee.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

An employment bureau has been organized at the Colorado School of Mines at Golden, which has the following list of graduates in the line of their professions.

The labor commissioner of Michigan, in his current annual report, presents some interesting statistics as to royalties received by the owners of the timber lands and iron mines in 1900 amounting to $41,107,000, of which $21,245,080 was from stumpage and $21,380,000 from coal and $8,461,980 from iron mines.

The world has not yet lost faith in canals. There is serious talk in France of building a canal from the sea to the Mediterranean, so that Mediterranean trade for other countries need not be carried within range of the English guns at Gibraltar. And the English are talking hopefully of a canal from Lake Erie to the Ohio river at Pittsburg, where they expect outside capital to build it.

The manufacture of gossamer clothing, and also of rubber goods in general, is, it appears, to be carried on by means of a new and improved process. The method proposed is for the combining of rubber and the production of the colors in figures, checks and plaids, by printing these on a rubber surface on gossamer garments, giving to the latter the appearance of the most popular patterns of "macintoshes," and at a very reasonable cost.

The senate has adopted a resolution, reported from the finance committee directing the commissioner of labor to make a report to the senate at the opening of the Fifty-third congress of the labor cost, including all the elements thereof, and also the labor cost of leading iron and steel products, leading products of textile industries, and of other articles of domestic manufacture, giving to the commissioner of labor the necessary funds for the purpose, and to be approximately obtained, with parallel exhibits of cost of production in other countries.

A Chicago contractor has invented a new way of giving wages to his workmen. He has been given a trial. The union workmen who now receive 35 cents an hour, wanted 40. The contractor offered to decide whether to give 35 or 40 cents, but no agreement was reached on the proposition, giving to the union a 5-cent advance on the rate, without the aid of a coin. It was estimated that $90,000 depended upon the difference of 5 cents in the rate of wages for an hour.

Foot Ball at Nebraska City. A game of foot ball will be played at Nebraska City tomorrow afternoon between the Omaha High school team and the State normal team of Iowa. The Omaha players will leave the Missouri Pacific depot on a special train at 11 a. m. A large crowd will accompany them. After the game the teams will be given a reception and finally 30 cents was agreed upon as the rate, without the aid of a coin. It was estimated that $90,000 depended upon the difference of 5 cents in the rate of wages for an hour.

THE DEADLY FUNNY MAN. Here is a man of the name of William A. Gilbert who had the strength of mind to forswear liquor, and turn his back on all fascinating pleasures, and devote his life to the service of his country. He is a man of the name of William A. Gilbert who had the strength of mind to forswear liquor, and turn his back on all fascinating pleasures, and devote his life to the service of his country.

THE OOT-DOORS GIRL. The bells of the ball room captivate the youths who cluster round the bar, and the girls who are so lovely in the eyes of the boys. The girls who are so lovely in the eyes of the boys. The girls who are so lovely in the eyes of the boys.

PEOPLE WORTH KNOWING. Dr. George McDonald, the Scotch poet, is in England and is living a secluded life in Scotland. Jay Gould's free passes on exhibition are not mentioned as including one on the New York, New Haven and Hartford road, or that other so hard to travel, Jordan.

See That Hole. They've started it now, and it is only a day or two now until the wall will be down—We've fenced off the front of the store so that we are still doing business in as good shape as ever.

See That Hole. They've started it now, and it is only a day or two now until the wall will be down—We've fenced off the front of the store so that we are still doing business in as good shape as ever.

See That Hole. They've started it now, and it is only a day or two now until the wall will be down—We've fenced off the front of the store so that we are still doing business in as good shape as ever.

See That Hole. They've started it now, and it is only a day or two now until the wall will be down—We've fenced off the front of the store so that we are still doing business in as good shape as ever.

See That Hole. They've started it now, and it is only a day or two now until the wall will be down—We've fenced off the front of the store so that we are still doing business in as good shape as ever.

See That Hole. They've started it now, and it is only a day or two now until the wall will be down—We've fenced off the front of the store so that we are still doing business in as good shape as ever.

MANY IN ONE.

A Lesson in Grammar by the National Supreme Court. The supreme court of the United States has recently been called upon to review the action of the supreme court of Texas in a suit brought against Brigadier General David S. Stanley and other army officers by persons claiming title to certain lands at San Antonio included in the government military reservation at that city.

Two opinions were handed down, one being the prevailing opinion of the court written by Chief Justice Fuller, and the other a dissenting opinion, by Mr. Justice Field. The dissenting opinion Judge Field takes occasion to criticize the language of the answer which was introduced in behalf of General Stanley and his co-defendants by the United States government, and as such a defense that the suit had not been brought within the time prescribed by law. The supreme court maintained the right of the government to interpose such a plea; but we call attention to the litigation not so much on account of its legal as its grammatical interest.

Two opinions were handed down, one being the prevailing opinion of the court written by Chief Justice Fuller, and the other a dissenting opinion, by Mr. Justice Field. The dissenting opinion Judge Field takes occasion to criticize the language of the answer which was introduced in behalf of General Stanley and his co-defendants by the United States government, and as such a defense that the suit had not been brought within the time prescribed by law.

Two opinions were handed down, one being the prevailing opinion of the court written by Chief Justice Fuller, and the other a dissenting opinion, by Mr. Justice Field. The dissenting opinion Judge Field takes occasion to criticize the language of the answer which was introduced in behalf of General Stanley and his co-defendants by the United States government, and as such a defense that the suit had not been brought within the time prescribed by law.

Two opinions were handed down, one being the prevailing opinion of the court written by Chief Justice Fuller, and the other a dissenting opinion, by Mr. Justice Field. The dissenting opinion Judge Field takes occasion to criticize the language of the answer which was introduced in behalf of General Stanley and his co-defendants by the United States government, and as such a defense that the suit had not been brought within the time prescribed by law.

Two opinions were handed down, one being the prevailing opinion of the court written by Chief Justice Fuller, and the other a dissenting opinion, by Mr. Justice Field. The dissenting opinion Judge Field takes occasion to criticize the language of the answer which was introduced in behalf of General Stanley and his co-defendants by the United States government, and as such a defense that the suit had not been brought within the time prescribed by law.

Two opinions were handed down, one being the prevailing opinion of the court written by Chief Justice Fuller, and the other a dissenting opinion, by Mr. Justice Field. The dissenting opinion Judge Field takes occasion to criticize the language of the answer which was introduced in behalf of General Stanley and his co-defendants by the United States government, and as such a defense that the suit had not been brought within the time prescribed by law.

Two opinions were handed down, one being the prevailing opinion of the court written by Chief Justice Fuller, and the other a dissenting opinion, by Mr. Justice Field. The dissenting opinion Judge Field takes occasion to criticize the language of the answer which was introduced in behalf of General Stanley and his co-defendants by the United States government, and as such a defense that the suit had not been brought within the time prescribed by law.

Two opinions were handed down, one being the prevailing opinion of the court written by Chief Justice Fuller, and the other a dissenting opinion, by Mr. Justice Field. The dissenting opinion Judge Field takes occasion to criticize the language of the answer which was introduced in behalf of General Stanley and his co-defendants by the United States government, and as such a defense that the suit had not been brought within the time prescribed by law.

Two opinions were handed down, one being the prevailing opinion of the court written by Chief Justice Fuller, and the other a dissenting opinion, by Mr. Justice Field. The dissenting opinion Judge Field takes occasion to criticize the language of the answer which was introduced in behalf of General Stanley and his co-defendants by the United States government, and as such a defense that the suit had not been brought within the time prescribed by law.

Two opinions were handed down, one being the prevailing opinion of the court written by Chief Justice Fuller, and the other a dissenting opinion, by Mr. Justice Field. The dissenting opinion Judge Field takes occasion to criticize the language of the answer which was introduced in behalf of General Stanley and his co-defendants by the United States government, and as such a defense that the suit had not been brought within the time prescribed by law.

Two opinions were handed down, one being the prevailing opinion of the court written by Chief Justice Fuller, and the other a dissenting opinion, by Mr. Justice Field. The dissenting opinion Judge Field takes occasion to criticize the language of the answer which was introduced in behalf of General Stanley and his co-defendants by the United States government, and as such a defense that the suit had not been brought within the time prescribed by law.

Two opinions were handed down, one being the prevailing opinion of the court written by Chief Justice Fuller, and the other a dissenting opinion, by Mr. Justice Field. The dissenting opinion Judge Field takes occasion to criticize the language of the answer which was introduced in behalf of General Stanley and his co-defendants by the United States government, and as such a defense that the suit had not been brought within the time prescribed by law.

Two opinions were handed down, one being the prevailing opinion of the court written by Chief Justice Fuller, and the other a dissenting opinion, by Mr. Justice Field. The dissenting opinion Judge Field takes occasion to criticize the language of the answer which was introduced in behalf of General Stanley and his co-defendants by the United States government, and as such a defense that the suit had not been brought within the time prescribed by law.

Two opinions were handed down, one being the prevailing opinion of the court written by Chief Justice Fuller, and the other a dissenting opinion, by Mr. Justice Field. The dissenting opinion Judge Field takes occasion to criticize the language of the answer which was introduced in behalf of General Stanley and his co-defendants by the United States government, and as such a defense that the suit had not been brought within the time prescribed by law.

Two opinions were handed down, one being the prevailing opinion of the court written by Chief Justice Fuller, and the other a dissenting opinion, by Mr. Justice Field. The dissenting opinion Judge Field takes occasion to criticize the language of the answer which was introduced in behalf of General Stanley and his co-defendants by the United States government, and as such a defense that the suit had not been brought within the time prescribed by law.

BROWNING, KING & CO. Largest Manufacturers and Retailers of Clothing in the World. See That Hole. They've started it now, and it is only a day or two now until the wall will be down—We've fenced off the front of the store so that we are still doing business in as good shape as ever.